COUNTY COURT-REMOVAL OF THE CLERK. _.ludge R. H. Cockerille presiding. -Court met at 11 a. m.

The rule against G. C. Seaton, clerk of this Court, issued at August term returnable at the first day of this term, to show cause why he should not be removed from office for malfeasance and gross neglect of duties, having been executed, the clerk, by his counsel, Messrs. Steuart and Smoot, moved to quash the rule upon the ground that it was defective in two particulars: first, because the clerk of this Court, is, by operation of law, clerk of the Circuit Court of Alexandria county, and has charge of the papers &c., of that Court, and cannot be removed by this Court; secondly, because the rule is too indefinite and uncertain; that it should set forth the particular neglect of duties specifically charged against the respondent, so that he may have an opportunity to defend himself: and these points having been argued by the respondent's counsel, the motion was overruled. Thereupon the respondent, under oath, filed his written answer. The Judge then said that the incompetency of the present in cumbent of the clerk's office was apparent and universally known; that the Court has personal knowledge of the particular dereliction of duties; that the Court had borne and forborne until it had become so disgusted with the conduct of the business of the office that it had no alternative but to remove the respondent from his office, and would enter the tollowing order: "George C. Seaton, clerk of the County Court, appeared, under a rule issued from this Court, to show cause why he should not be removed elected and qualified."

David Hunter qualified as clerk pro tem, executing the requisite official bond, with Samuel Hefflebower as security, and the Court proceeded with the regular business.

county to show cause why they made allowances to the clerk of the Court, Sheriff and Commonwealth's Attorney for this county for 1871, without having said allowances ascertained by the Court, the defendants, Smith, Wroe and Deeble, answered that they had not, at any time, proceeded to make allowances to the parties named for the year 1871. The rule was thereupon dismissed and a new rule was issued against the same, returnable at the next term of the Court, to show cause why they made allow ances for the parties named for the year 1872.

The following is a report of the work done during the day the interest taken by the assemblage in the services. The Sunday prayer meeting in the 2nd Presbyterian Church was as fully attended as usual, the precious re union of the churches. The earnest prayers, the soul-stirring singing, the fervent addresses, and the special prayer for the conversion of a soul laboring for its return to the Saviour, made the occasion one of the happiest in the history of this activity of the Association." This prayer meeting will be held next Sunday in the 1st Presbyterian there were but seven vacancies left in Washington School, and permits were granted for those as soon as the office opened this morning. About thirty boys have since applied, but as the issue of more than three hundred during the examination would embarrass the Principal in his grading, and might exclude some who got their permits at the proper time, the Superintendent directed the Clerk to issue no more permits for who have already obtained permits, will decline using them, thus creating vacancies, as is often the case. It is the intention of the Superintendent, we learn, to recommend to the School Board the establishment of more schools if they are found to be necessary. Many more boys must be going to school this year than last, for we are informed that, notwithstanding this increase in the public schools, both St. John's Academy and the Alexandria Academy, which opened this morning, did so with in creased numbers. The female public schools for white children are, also, very nearly full, only four more permits being at the Clerk's dis posal at 2 o'clock to-day. The colored schools, however, are not much more than half filled as of Mr. Richard Purcell, the efficient engineer of the Columbia Steam Fire Company, enough money has been subscribed to purchase a wagon to be used in the exercise of the horses of that company, and to haul fuel with in time of fire. One of our public spirited and energetic citizens kindly advanced the amount it cost, and it is hoped that all who have subscribed will hand Mr. Purcell the amount due by each, in order to enable him to refund the remainder due the gentleman who paid for it. It was placed in the shop of Mr. Henry Miffleton, where it was painted in fine style; the body dark green with gilt striping, and the name Columbia S. F. E. Co. in gold letters on each side, the running gear in red, striped with blue and gold, and with gold rays on the spokes around the hubs, and when finished it will make quite a show, and will reflect great credit upon Mr. Miffleton and

Mr. John Allison, who did the painting. DONATION FROM THE PEABODY FUND .-Our City Superintendent of Public Schools, having petitioned the agent of the Peabody Education Fund for two thousand dollars in aid of our city schools for the coming year, the following reply was received, through the Superintendent of Public Instruction, on Saturday evening :- "With respect to your application for a portion of the Peabody Fund for 1872-3, Dr. Sears says: - 'I had appropriated $1,000 for the schools of Alexandria the coming year, but will add $500 to the appropria-So we get $1,500, which will aid materially in the erection of a new school house.

ATTEMPTED HIGHWAY ROBBERY .- On Thursday night last, while Mr. B. H. Amelia Mitchell, colored, for disorderly conduct; Charles Hackins, colored, for assaulting his former wife; Thomas Price, colored, for disorderly conduct and Robert Manley for defacing the stand at the corner of King and Washington streets, were find and discharged. NIGHT REPORT.-Night clear and cool.-There were no disturbances, no arrests, nor any lodgers at the station house.

ARM BROKEN. - David Cruse, of Mauricetown, N. J., the steward of the schooner S. H. Sharp, had his arm broken about sundown last evening. His vessel was lying in the stream, and the accident occurred while he was in her yawl boat fending it off from the schooner during the continuance of the swells made by a passing steamer. His arm was set by Dr. Brown and he was sent to the Marine hospital in Washington this morning.

Losses by the Late Disasters.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.-A complete list of passengers of the steamer Bienville, which was burned at sea, shows that there were sixty-two persons which with the crew, would make about ninety two persons on board. Of this number there are thirty-six still to be heard from. Seven persons were drowned when one of the boats capsized and nine more were drowned in the surf at Eleuthera. It is hoped that the thirty six in the boat not yet heard from have been saved, as there has been but little wind and slight sea and the boat is adrift in one of the great highways of commerce where it is likely to be picked up.

A Stonington dispatch says one hundred and seven have been saved from the wreck of the Metis. Twenty-five are known to be dead and twenty-three are missing. It is probable that the bodies at Watch Hill which are unidentified will be burried Monday.

Dr. Livingtone.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.-John Livingstone, a brother of Dr. Livingstone, has been interviewed at Listowell, Canada, by a correspondent as to the genuineness of the Livingstone letters He states that he has not the least doubt that the letter he received was in his brothers own handwriting. He explained the presence of caurious expressions in the Doctor's letters by the fact that the explorer was always fond of indulging in humorous and quaint sayings.

Another Collision.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.-The steamboats Tiger Lily and Pope Catlien which ply between Harlem and High Bridge yesterday came in collision. The smoke stack and part of the hurricane deck was torn off the Tiger Lily and the smoke and steam escaping so alarmed the passengers that a panic nearly occurred. Had the boats been crowded several lives would have been sacrificed.

NATURE'S APPEALS FOR HELP.-Every indication of debility and exhaustion is a mute appeal of Nature for medicinal aid to arrest the progress of decay. How are these silent appeals of physical weakness to the resources of the healing art usually met? Too often, unfortunately, the drugs prescribed aggravate the symptoms. Whoever recommends drastic purgatives, or mineral salivants, or poisonous alkaloids, under such circumstances, is an ally of the ailment and an enemy of the patient. Whoever, on the contrary, advises the broken down and despending sufferer to resort to that peerless vegetable invigorant, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, for aid and comfort, is a true philanthropist. It is safe to say that there never was an instance in which such advice was given and accepted without the happiest results. From the very depths of weakress and despondency thousely depths of weakress and despondency depths despondency depths sands have been restored to vigor, health and cheerfulness by the renovating operation of this wholesome stimulant and alterative. All its medicinal ingredients are remarkable for their sanative properties, and in combination form an absolute specific for indigestion, liver complaint, nervous affections, rheumat'sm, intermittent and remittent fevers, general and local weak-ness, and every species of disorder incident to a change of season or climate. The stimulative element of this invaluable protective and restorative is not an impure excitant, but the thoroughly rectified essence of sound rye, admitted by all good chemists to be most healthful of ex-hilarants sep 2-colw

THE CLARK-FEWELL TRAGEDY.

-Report of the Physicians-Clark's Dying Declaration-Fewell in Jail.

[Special to the Alexandria Gazette.] BRENTSVILLE, Aug. 31.—The citizens of our peaceful and quiet village were greatly alarmed about 9 o'clock this morning by hearing firing and cries of murder proceeding from the jail. It appears that Rhoda Fewell, after Clark was brought to Brentsville, left Manassas and went up the Orange road for the purpose of putting up lightning rods. This morning, however, he returned on the 5 a. m. down train, got off at Bristoe and walked to Brentsville unperceived by any one except the ticket agent at that place. It is supposed that he concealed himself in the woods at the back of the jail. About five minutes before the firing commenced a man was discovered by persons sitting on Mr. Kincheloe's porch, stealing cautiously toward the front door of the jail and observed to enter. These persons paid no attention, supposing him to be the brother of the jailor. In a few minutes the firing and cries were heard, and Major Thornton and Mr. Lipscomb, Deputy Clerk, both hurried to the spot, and on entering the door, the Major, who was the first to get there, saw Fewell with a pistol in each hand in the act of firing through the iron grated door at Clark, who had been taken from the debtor's room, in the upper story of the jail, and placed in a cell on the ground floor, the door of which opens on the right as you enter from the front door. Fewell states that he went direct to the debtor's room and not finding him there, examined all the cells up stairs, then came down and found Clark lying on the bed in that cell. Fewell had shot three times before any one arrived, and was in the act of firing his last shot when Major Thornton seized him and attempted to take him away but did not succeed, owing to the fact that Fewell had his left arm bent on the inside of the door, and with his left hand fired the last shot. He then walked to the door and escaped in the direction he came. On opening the door of the cell there was great confusion; Clark evidently had used every means at his disposal to defend himself; a pitcher, inkstand and a heavy glass salt cellar were all had used a table as a shield, but to no effect. Clark, after he was shot, got on the side of the bed, was perfectly rational, and requested that somebody would stand outside and guard the window, as "he was afraid Rhoda would come back and shoot him;" said he was shot in the breast, and on an examination of the wound it was discovered that the ball had passed on the
